TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

DEPARTMENT OF KINESIOLOGY & SPORT MANAGEMENT

M.S. in Kinesiology—Emphasis in Sport Pedagogy

Non-Thesis Option

(Revised 09/2023)

Introduction

- The M.S. in Kinesiology with an emphasis on Sport Pedagogy is designed for individuals seeking careers in education or education-related environments. The program provides requisite knowledge and skills needed to assume leadership roles in the individual's chosen environment.

Prerequisites

- Admission to graduate school.
- Bachelor's degree in physical education or the equivalent from an accredited college or university
- English language proficiency

Curriculum

Course ID	Course Title	Hours
PRINCIPLES OF RESEARCH
EDCI 605	Qualitative Research Methods in Curriculum and Instruction	3
EPSY 603	Qualitative Methodologies in Educational Research	3
EPSY 635	Educational Statistics	3
EPSY 636	Techniques of Research	3
KINE 601	Reading Research in Publications in Kinesiology	3
KINE 681	Seminar	1
KINE 690	Statistics in Research	3
SPMT 601	Research Methods for Sport Organizations	3
KINESIOLOGY CORE
KINE 622	Supervision of Health and Kinesiology	3

KINE 624	Pedagogical Research in Physical Education	3
KINE 628	Nutrition in Sport and Exercise	3
KINE 629	Physiology of Strength and Conditioning	3
KINE 683	Practicum in Kinesiology	3
KINE 685	Directed Studies	6
SPMT 610	Management of Sport Organizations	3
SPMT 613	Diversity & Ethics in Sport	3
SPMT 623	Athletics Administration	3
SPMT 640	Psychology for Coaches	3

SUPPORTING FIELDS

EDAD 601	College Teaching	3
EDAD 610	Higher Education Law	3
EDCI 601	Disciplinary Knowledge and Research in Curriculum and Instruction	3
EDCI 603	Professional Development Strategies for Teachers	3
EDCI 638	Trends in Curriculum & Instruction	3
EDCI 644	Curriculum Development	3
EDCI 673	Analysis of Teaching Behavior	3
EDCI 715	Academic Writing for Graduate Students	3
EPSY 602	Educational Psychology	3
HLTH 659	Writing for Health Education	3
Electives[3]	Approved by Advisor

TOTAL MINIMUM HOURS REQUIRED = 36